

Chip Clawson

Chip Clawson is a sculptor known for larger scale concrete and ceramic public and private art installations. This has included many fabric formed sculptures up to twenty feet tall. More recently his work has shifted to using digital technology to create light weight large sculptures and installations that show movement and are joyful, colorful and positive. He is inspired by the natural world as well as by Antoni Gaudi, Henry Mercer and Edward James. His work is intended to engage and captivate the imagination of the viewer.
