

Lily Hoelscher

Lily Hoelscher has been deep in the proverbial weeds of the theatre scene in Helena since she moved here in 2019. Graduating from Carroll College in 2024, she has continued expanding her artistic experience by applying her Theatre degree as an actor, playwright, and director for many local projects through Carroll's FLEX Theatre, Raven's Feather Productions, and Red Ink Players. You may have seen her perform onstage in 2025 as Logan in The Thanksgiving Play, Emily in Zoloft Tango, or any of a handful of roles in Helena Saturday Night Live 2025. Her theatrical scripts have been performed in Helena at various venues and events since 2022 as well. Lily deeply loves any and all things to do with the arts, and when not onstage or backstage can likely be found drawing, writing, singing, or, perhaps serendipitously, reflecting upon the value of art in human existence.
